Award-winning director-writer Drake Doremus brings us this moving and beautifully acted film starring Guy Pearce and Felicity Jones. When a British exchange student arrives in a small upstate New York town, she challenges the dynamics of her host family's relationships and alters their lives forever. Felicity Jones strikes exactly the right note as a young musician who enchants Guy Pearce in this captivating film.

The film examines the conflict between freedom of information and state security. Gibney gives a convincing account of a complex network of events through the presentation of the chief players. He uses raw information, stills, video footage, emails and talking heads to create compelling cinema.

Blancanieves

Spain. 104mins

Director: Pablo Berger

Cast: Maribel Verdu, Daniel Gimenez Cacho, Angela Molina

Sept Sat 7, Thurs 12
8pm

PG

Reworking the Brothers Grimm story of Snow White, this gothic production, superbly shot in black and white, follows the popular success of The Artist and is a tribute to silent films. Set in 1920s' Seville, Blancanieves, hated by her stepmother, runs away with a troupe of dwarves and becomes a legendary bullfighter. Maribel Verdu gives a wonderfully wicked performance as the stepmother, with no need for words to demonstrate her malevolence. The evocative score provides a powerful backdrop.

Frances Ha

USA. 86mins

Director: Noah Baumbach

Cast: Greta Gerwig, Mickey Sumner, Adam Driver

Sept Fri 13, Sat 14
8pm

15

The story of the hapless Frances, who at 28 years and without a proper job, home or partner, admits, "I'm not a real person yet". This witty and exuberant film is shot in textured black and white and with an improvisational feel to the performances. The Brooklyn setting is not airbrushed; the plot takes in class, money, sex and friendship; but there's also indefatigable optimism. Critics are already tipping Greta Gerwig's performance as a potential Oscar-winner.

Barnstormers Comedy returns to Leighton Buzzard this autumn with a Saturday night show.

Barnstormers Comedy is one of the leading promoters of stand-up comedy in the UK with comedy clubs in theatres and arts centres across the Midlands and South. Each month their compere introduces three different top acts from the London circuit, usually Comedy Store regulars. If you've not been to a stand-up comedy night before you'll be impressed by the freshness and spontaneity of the acts (they write their own material). You might have seen them as guests on the "Michael McIntyre Roadshow", or perhaps "Mock The Week" or maybe "Have I Got News for You". Because of the bawdy nature of the shows they may not be suitable for those of a sensitive nature. Over 18s only please unless accompanied by a responsible person.

8 Live screenings

In November 2012, Leighton Buzzard Theatre showed the National Theatre's Timon of Athens, not only as a celebration of the new digital cinema but to launch a schedule of screenings as part of the National Theatre Live programme. This groundbreaking project aimed to broadcast the best of British Theatre live from the London stage to cinemas across the UK.

A year on, it is without a doubt that the project has been a great success for the theatre, and we are proud that our unique selling point is that we are still able to retain the ambience and etiquette of a live theatre show whilst showing a film.

Othello

The National Theatre presents a major new production of Shakespeare's celebrated play about the destructive power of jealousy. Othello, newly married to Desdemona, is appointed leader of a major military operation. Iago, passed over for promotion by Othello in favour of the young Cassio, persuades Othello that Cassio and Desdemona are having an affair.

Olivier Award-winning actor Adrian Lester takes the title role. Playing opposite him as the duplicitous Iago is fellow Olivier Award-winner Rory Kinnear who is reunited with director Nicholas Hytner.

The Habit Of Art

National Theatre Live's 2010 broadcast of Alan Bennett's acclaimed play The Habit of Art, with Richard Griffiths, Alex Jennings and Frances de la Tour, returns to cinemas as part of the National Theatre's 50th anniversary celebrations.

Alan Bennett's play is as much about the theatre as it is about poetry or music. It looks at the unsettling desires of two difficult men, and at the ethics of biography. It reflects on growing old, on creativity and inspiration, and on persisting when all passion's spent: ultimately, on the habit of art.

What is a live screening?

Live events are those where we are able to offer our audience the chance to see the performances as they are being staged and recorded live.

What is an encore screening?

We cannot always show the live shows at the exact time of the live recording. This can be down to our own scheduling, the time difference (we would have to show Bolshoi Ballet at 3am) and most significantly in this current season, events like Frankenstein were recorded a few years ago.

The performances were still recorded live, they are not edited or made filmic and allow venues to share these fantastic events after they have finished on stage.
